FREE “KNOW YOUR NUMBERS” Health Screenings Event!!
An Invitation from the Black Men's Health Clinic and Community Partners

AUSTIN (Austin-Metropolitan Area) –

The Black Men's Health Clinic (BMHC) invites you to join us at our “Know Your Numbers” event at BMHC. Our dedicated nurses will be on staff to check your blood pressure, blood sugar, and cholesterol levels and provide vaccinations. For those that are doing cholesterol checks, we ask that you be fasting off of food for at least two hours prior to your arrival.

The event will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at BMHC, located at 6633 Highway 290 East, Suite 100, in Austin.

Come on out and take a step towards better health!

#CareYouCanTrust #YourHealthMatters #ForAllMenofColor

About the Black Men’s Health Clinic: BMHC exists to lower barriers for successful healthcare by removing burdens men of color commonly experience such as scheduling, finances, and coordination between providers. The name Black Men's Health Clinic was chosen to deliberately reveal the apparent inequities black men experience and "it" represents our unwavering commitment to addressing them.

BMHC is here to ensure the longevity and quality of life for all men of color by elevating them to a priority and providing resources designed to best aid them. This first-of-its-kind health clinic addresses the long-standing care gaps for men of color.
